

Welcome to Bacchus Festival 2017, and thank you for coming.

There are many wines at today's tasting and we do not expect or recommend that you taste them all. We encourage spitting. It is the simplest and most efficient way to professionally taste wine. If tasting in this fashion (spitting) is new to you, please do not hesitate to ask one of our staff to demonstrate it for you. Done properly, it will provide your olfactory senses with the most memorable experience of the wine.

Table 1Woodberry Wine*Anne Amie 2016 Müller Thurgau

Grapes were hand-picked and brought directly to the winery in 1/2-ton totes in perfect condition. They were whole cluster pressed and placed into temperature controlled stainless steel fermenters, where they were slowly fermented at 45°F for maximum varietal character. The wine aged on its lees for four months before being bottled. Aromas of honeysuckle, key lime pie, white flowers, starfruit, kumquat, crushed gravel greet you with flavors of key lime, yellow grapefruit, golden delicious apple, pears. The finish is clean and refreshing.

Casa Santos Lima 2014 Colossal Reserva

"Colossal" is defined by something gigantic in place and time. Made from selected grapes grown in wide and beautiful areas of Casa Santos Lima vineyards, this lush, full bodied blend of touriga nacional, syrah, tinta roriz and alicante bouschet features intense color with gobs of ripe black fruit, spicy flavors, and a bit of smoke. Well balanced with smooth tannins and a long, full and pleasant finish. Wine Spectator 91 'Smart Buy' From Vinho Regional Lisboa, Portugal

Constantia Glen 2016 Sauvignon Blanc

Daring aromas of passion fruit, peach and grapefruit, which unfurl into the most delicate array of spices with a single swirl of the glass. Here the tropical facade so slightly fades to expose underlying hints of fennel seed, white pepper and cardamom, neatly strung together by an uplifting, yet delicate perfume of mandarin. The wine's complex bouquet gains even more vibrancy once the citrus flavors encounter the palate's rich, creamy texture, which is achieved during maturation on the lees in stainless steel tanks for 4 months prior to bottling. A portion of 5% sémillon was incorporated into the blend to add some depth to the wine's otherwise racy acidity and rich core, resulting in a mouthfeel that demands a sip more. A classic Constantia wine, showing beautiful elegance, a well-defined minerality and the kind of structure that allows for superlative ageing under ideal cellaring conditions.

Bois de Boursan is produced from a blend of 65% grenache, 15% mourvèdre, 15% syrah and 5% other varieties. The vines for this wine range from 40-80 years of age. The terroir is rocks, clay, sand and limestone. Bois de Boursan is aged in large foudres that were previously used to make beer in the Alsace region. Just 3,200 cases are produced each year. This wine shows earthy aromas comingled with dark fruits. Lots of spice on the palate with leather/saddle notes to boot. Love the complexity. Best served at cellar temperature. The cool temperature gives the wine more freshness and lift. Bois de Boursan Rouge is best served with all types of classic meat dishes, veal, pork, beef, lamb, duck, game, roast chicken, roasted, braised, grilled dishes, sausage and cassoulet. Bois de Boursan is also good with Asian dishes, hearty fish courses like tuna, mushrooms and pasta.

The grenache for the cuvée is from the domaine's oldest parcels, now 80+ years old and located in the Dentelles de Montmirail. Enticing aromatics. This is a very dark, awesome color almost of stewed prunes with soft plummy fruit driven nose. Rich, chewy and elegant wine that fills the mouth and has an enormous lingering finish. A very high-quality Rhône wine that is ideal with all game and red meats.

A delicious digestif. If you find full-strength brandy a little strong, this is a great alternative. Made from Cognac, but sweetened with red grape juice just after harvest, this is a rich nutty, figgy delight. Torres 2013 Salmos

This Wine is a homage to the monks of the courageous Carthusian order, who arrived in 'Priorat', in 1095, where they cultivated vines. In 1835 a violent crowd destroyed the work of a lifetime and sacked the monastery, events which later culminated in the auctioning of church lands. In 1996 the Torres Family began work on the planting of vineyards on the slopes strewn with the hard, black slate-like "Licorella" stone. This wine is a blend of cariñena, garnacha and syrah. 2013 was an extraordinary year in terms of the weather conditions. Unlike the usual climate in the Priorat, namely very hot and dry, the rainfall in the vegetative growth stage was above average while summer temperatures were very mild. This meant the plants suffered no stress and the ripening cycle lasted between 12 and 15 days longer than in hot years. It also helped to balance the ripening of the skins (phenolic ripening) and that of the pulp. This has produced concentrated but balanced wines, healthy and well-ripened. A full package of aromas includes notes of cedar, vanilla, earthy spice and ripe black fruits. Ripeness is no issue on the palate, which feels intense but controlled. Flavors of berry fruits and black currant are chocolaty, with herbal spice notes. Finally, a long powerful finish tastes of spice-infused chocolate. Drink through 2023. 92 Points/Parker

The Basso family tends some 70 separate vineyards, both in the plains around the village of Ortovero and on the region's terraced and steep hillsides, three miles away from the sea as the crow flies. This is the inspired madness of vine growing in Liguria—so much so that there are only a few dozen full-time producers in the entire region. Yet for those stubborn, inspired few, what Liguria can give is nothing less than extraordinary. The thread that connects the wines of Liguria is indeed the sea: whites are limpid and invigorating; each bottle begs for Mediterranean cuisine and lively company. Hand-harvested. Fermented on indigenous yeasts in temperature-controlled tanks. Aged in tank on fine lees. Aromas of honeycomb, citrus, yellow wildflowers. Punch Vineyards 2015 Cabernet Sauvignon

This special wine is made by a small group of Napa Valley artisans whose careers were built producing top-rated wines for prestigious vintners. "We got used to sipping from the golden chalice, all in a day's work – reserve blending trials, "aging checks" of library vintages, and of course comparative tastings of Napa Valley's best. To monitor quality in more real-life settings – like our back decks – we raided the occasional bottle from the QC lab. Or better yet, from the "secret" Public Relations stash. Then, we traded our booty with friends at other wineries. Yet, we could not afford to buy the wines we created! One day, in an oddly practical moment, we realized, "Hey, why not use our know-how and insider network to make a great wine that we and our friends can actually buy." The "who's who" of some of our group must remain a trade secret, but here we are... Punch Vineyards. For our mascot, we chose Punch the California Grizzly. We like to think of him as tough but playful – with an uncanny sense of taste." Punch Vineyards has all the hallmarks of a luxury Cabernet Sauvignon: concentration, complex flavors of black cherry, blackberry, mocha, spice and other notes. Toasty oak, soft, assertive tannins. Illahé 2015 Pinot Noir Bon Sauvage

This wine from Oregon's Willamette Valley presents clear but not overwhelming notes of oak. The grapes from this vintage were taken from the lower part of our hill which were lighter and less influenced by the hot summer sun. The combination of 25% new oak and lighter fruit produced a very Burgundian wine. It opens with strong aromas of cedar chest and fresh plum with classic notes of cola and ripe olives. Subtle flavors of raspberry and strawberry, paired with dark flavors of black cherry and blackberry give this blend a strong backbone and bold palate. Super interesting wine. Deep intense ruby red with a nose of Marasca cherries with elegant balsamic and spicy notes. Full and enveloping flavors, with the charming elegance on the palate that is typical of "thoroughbred" sangiovese. The blend is 70% sangiovese, 20% cabernet sauvignon and cabernet franc, 10% merlot. After fermentation, the wine is transferred to small French wood containers, where it undergoes malolactic fermentation and remains for a least 15 months. During this period the wine is racked a few times to make it clearer and prepare it for bottling, which is done without subjecting the wine to any filtration or clarification processes in order to keep all its organoleptic properties intact. Indeed, at Vina Robles, a small percentage of this variety typically finds its way into our Cabernet Sauvignon wines for this purpose. However, we have found the variety exhibits richness and balance without the excessive astringency when grown in our estate vineyards. As such, we singled out a small lot offering from our Huerhuero Vineyard to showcase its exceptional qualities as a standalone wine. The grapes were handpicked in the cool morning hours and sorted in the vineyard. They were gently crushed and then allowed to ferment in small stainless-steel tanks. Various extraction techniques were implemented during the progressive stages of fermentation to enhance fruit flavors and balance mouthfeel. The wine was then transferred into barrels to complete malolactic fermentation and spent 20 months in French oak barrels. The nose shows cherries and dark chocolate with hints of fine tobacco. Medium to full-bodied with cherry and cocoa powder flavors with a fine grain, chalky finish. Enjoy now through 2024. Yum!

Jean-Louis Denois nv Chardonnay Extra Brut

One of the rising stars of the Languedoc, Jean-Louis Denois makes exciting, world class wines that remain amazingly inexpensive, due to his location more than anything else. His vineyards sit in the very southwestern corner of France, at the foot of the Pyrenees, with perilously low-yielding vines, vinified with as little interference as possible. Jean-Louis focuses his work on the noble Champagne grapes. This cuvee is 100% organically farmed Chardonnay. The grapes are hand-picked and transported in small boxes. The grapes are pressed whole; only first-run juice is used. The wine is made in stainless steel. In the traditional method, the second fermentation is in bottle, after which it is aged for 4 years in bottle on the lees. Then it is gently riddled to remove sediment before corking. This fine extra-dry sparkling wine is a superbly stylish Blanc de Blancs, showing the estate's hallmark purity and ripe Chardonnay fruit. Its smoothness comes from 4 years of bottle age. It is a perfect expression of patient hard work. Very ripe, rich smooth wine best enjoyed on its own as an aperitif; also, perfect with shellfish, seafood, oysters or sushi. Less than three grams of residual sugar. Everyone can use a case of this one!

This is a Beaujolais from the lieu dit Cote de Py, which is the famous slope outside the town of Villié-Morgon and is considered to be the best lieu dit of Morgon. The granite and schistous soils sit on an alluvial fan at the highest point outside the town and impart more character and complexity to the wine. The name Morgon Le Cru Aux Roches Pourries refers to the “roche pourrie” (literally rotten rock), the crumbly, flaky rock rich in iron oxide and manganese which imparts a red ochre color to the soil. Grapes are harvested by hand from the best vineyard in the cru, and only the best clusters of grapes are selected for the wine. This is just a delightful and graceful all-purpose wine. The rules for Kamptal DAC state that Grüner Veltliner must be produced in a fresh style without botrytis or wood. Loimer places this wine in their “klassik” range and is intended to be a transparent snapshot of the varietal, the vintage and most importantly the Kamptal region. The grapes for this wine come from old vineyards around Langenlois and nearby areas. Both young and old vines for the wine grow mainly in loess and weathered gneiss soils. The grapes are selectively picked by hand in October. Then, following a short maceration time, they underwent fermentation in steel tanks – partly spontaneous, partly controlled. At the end of January, the freshly fermented wine was drawn off and then further matured on the lees until bottling. This wine is spicy, peppery, with bright green apple and even exotic notes like grapefruit. The very clear, juicy fruit and fresh acid structure play a crucial role for the mouthfeel and make this a very pleasurable wine to drink. Because of its structure and lengthy mineral palate, this is a wine of depth - even with its medium body. A perfect partner with cold cuts or fish like trout; also, good with veal and ambitious chicken dishes, cabbage.

d'Arenberg 2014 Hermit Crab Viognier/Marsanne

Winemaker Notes: Wonderfully aromatic covering a broad spectrum of characters from white stone fruits and citrus through to ginger, spice and raw nuts. The palate is equally as giving with good fruit generosity, well etched, crisp acidity, and a super fine grapefruit pith like phenolic tail. The overall combination of these features deliver a fruit driven wine that tails off to a long, savory and mouth-watering finish. A versatile wine that can be equally enjoyed on its own, aperitif style, or with a wide range of spicy foods, white meat and seafood-focused dishes. Critical Acclaim: Wilfred Wong of Wine.com. After a memorable visit to the winery in 1996, I basically fell in love with the d'Arenberg wines. Two decades later, I still find the wines to be some of the world's finest. The 2015 d'Arenberg Hermit Crab is simply beautiful. The wine's aromatic notes and rewarding palate textures pair it perfectly with Dungeness crab in a ginger, onion sauce.

John Duval 2012 Plexus SGM

This is legend John Duval's classic Southern Rhone blend sourced from top quality old vine Barossa vineyards. This is a must try for anyone who loves Barossa wines and also folks who enjoy wines from regions like Châteauneuf-du-Pape where blends like this originated. John's wines are rich, pure, medium-full bodied and have exquisite balance. Winemaker's notes: "My aim with Plexus is to express the wide spectrum of red fruit flavors from Shiraz, Grenache and Mourvèdre and also provide structure with a seamless balance and long finish. Traditional, low intervention winemaking techniques are employed with Plexus, allowing the wine to be approachable in its youth, but also have medium term cellaring potential for 8-10 years. Fermentation was done in small open stainless-steel fermenters. The wine was then matured entirely in fine grain French oak hogsheads (300-liter barrels), just 10% new oak, with the balance 3-6-year-old barrels, for 15 months. The wine is crimson purple-red, with an array of red and black berry aromatics, wild berries and cassis. On the palate the wine shows generously, with soft texture and fine tannins. Flavors of blackberry and dark cherry with hints of Asian spice and Christmas cake." Critical Acclaim: 94 points James Suckling Duval's regional red, which melds Shiraz, Grenache and Mourvèdre together seamlessly, is a stunning rendition in the 2012 vintage. The Barossan origin is strong in all aspects of the wine, which shows deep blackberries and other red fruits on the nose in addition to some gently earthy and tarry meat accents, hints of nutty oak and a sense of vibrant ripeness. The palate delivers redder than expected fruit flavors. Grenache speaks strong here. Tannins are soft, supple and layered, and the wine occupies every corner of the mouth. Made by one of the all-time icons of Australian winemaking, John Duval (ex-Penfolds Grange winemaker), the 2014 Entity is exclusively sourced from old-vine vineyards in the Barossa and Eden Valleys. Winemaker's Notes: "My aim with Entity is to produce an elegant Shiraz true to the Barossa. The 2014 Entity again includes some Eden Valley Shiraz to help maintain the elegance and style of Entity. Traditional, low-intervention winemaking techniques were employed with Entity, allowing the wine to be approachable in its youth, but with ample structure and fruit depth to allow great potential for improvement in the bottle under good cellaring conditions, for at least 10-12 years. In the cellar fermentation with submerged cap and small open stainless-steel fermenters. The wine is then matured for 15 months, in 35% new, fine grain French oak hogsheads (300 liters) and the balance in 2, 3 and 4-year-old hogsheads. The nose shows a dark fruit expression of blackberry and plum, giving way to some lifted floral notes and savory, spicy French oak. On the palate the Entity is full bodied and generous with excellent concentration of blackberry fruit. Textured layers of fruit, balanced acidity and fine, long tannins will enable good cellaring potential."
